

PRIVACY POLICY (last update: 30th of July 2023)

On our website, we do not collect your personal data or use cookies. Cookies are not installed on your device while browsing our website, so you don't need to worry about exercising data processing rights.

How do we protect your privacy? The anonymous survey serves solely for the analysis of the over-indebtedness and financial literacy situation in Slovenia. On our website, you can also access the registration form for participation in the international conference "Preventing Indebtedness and Improving Debt Counseling."

The collected data is solely needed for organizing the conference. We will safeguard them. If you have any questions or concerns about privacy or data management on our website or regarding participation in the survey, please contact us.
